Cabinet expansion on Feb. 6, says CM

Bengaluru, Feb. 2 (UNI & Agencies)- Karnataka Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa said that the Cabinet expansion would take place on Feb. 6, with 13 MLAs taking oath of office. He was addressing a press conference at his Home Office this morning.

"The Cabinet expansion will take place on Feb. 6 with the oath-taking ceremony at the Raj Bhavan at 10.30 am. Thirteen MLAs, including 10 who had joined BJP from parties, including Congress and the JD(S), will take oath," he said.

The Cabinet expansion is on the cards for nearly two months ever since the BJP won the maximum number of seats in the Dec. 5, 2019, by-polls and got a majority in the Karnataka Assembly. Yediyurappa has been under immense pressure by former MLAs of the Congress and the JD(S) who had crossed over to the BJP to make him the Chief Minister last July to expand his Cabinet. Of the 17 defectors, only 13 were fielded in the December by-polls and 11 of them won, making his job difficult. Two seats are still vacant because of election petitions pending before Courts.

Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa

According to these MLAs, Yediyurappa had promised to make all of them Ministers, with the post of Deputy Chief Minister going to their leader Ramesh Jarkiholi. But the party High Command had been dragging its feet, not allowing Yediyurappa to induct these new entrants at the cost of party loyalists.

In the 224-member Karnataka Assembly, only 34 can become Ministers, including the Chief Minister. The BSY Government currently has just 18 Ministers, with many holding more than one bigger portfolio.

Yesterday, Yediyurappa started consultations to finalise the list of MLAs to be inducted into his six-month-old Cabinet.

According to sources, Yediyurappa spoke over the phone to some newly elected MLAs and tried to persuade a few not to get agitated if they are left out of the Cabinet and assured them he would consider them in the next expansion after June.

The CM wants to keep Srimantha Patil, Mahesh Kumthalli and Shivaram Hebbar out of the Cabinet till June as the High Command is said to be in favour of a Cabinet reshuffle then. Efforts are being made to persuade K.R. Pet MLA K.C. Narayana Gowda to wait till June. But none are said to be ready to let go of this opportunity.

Former Minister Ramesh Jarkiholi, set to become a Minister, is reportedly batting for Kumthalli as he was with him from Day 1 when Jarkiholi started his efforts to topple the Congress-JD(S) Coalition Government owing to his differences with senior Congress leader D.K. Shivakumar.

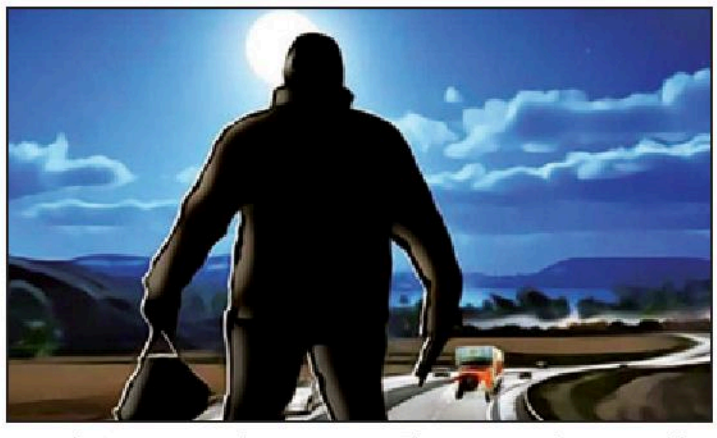
Yediyurappa, given the green signal by the party High Command for Cabinet expansion after over six weeks, plans to induct 9 or 10 newly elected MLAs and three or four BJP old-timers. "Though Yediyurappa is keen on inducting all 11 turncoat MLAs to keep his promise, his hands are tied owing to increasing number of aspirants among BJP old-timers," said a senior BJP MLA.

Daring Highway Robbery

One car, one bike waylaid and driven away

Srirangapatna, Feb.2 (Vinay Karekura&DM)- The tourist town of Srirangapatna woke up to a shocking crime news this morning as a gang of Highway dacoits, after a brief lull, struck again looting two motorists of their belongings and vehicles in two separate incidents on Mysuru-Bengaluru Highway before the crack of dawn today. While a car was driven away in the first incident, a bike was snatched in the second incident.

In the first incident, Manikumar, a tipper driver working for a stone quarry, was travelling on his motorcycle (KA-07-U-5413) to T.M. Hosur at about 5.20 am when a five-member gang who came in two-motorcycles, waylaid him near Gowripura located between Baburayanakoppalu and T.M. Hosur Gate and robbed him of Rs. 500 cash and some personal identity cards he was carrying in a purse.



The gang, after assaulting Manikumar, fled with his motorcycle, even before he could realise what was happening. Manikumar, who sustained minor injuries in the assault, lodged a complaint with Srirangapatna Rural Police Station.

In the second incident, Raymond D'Souza, a car driver with a Bengaluru-based travel company, was returning to Bengaluru in the Maruti Swift car (KA-12-B-7987) after completing work at about 5.45 am, when he was intercepted by a five-member gang who came in three motorcycles, near Kodishettypura, about 10 kms away from Gowripura, where the first incident had taken place.

The gang, after assaulting Raymond D'Souza, robbed him of Rs.1,500 cash he was carrying, before fleeing from the spot along with the car. D'Souza who suffered minor bruises in the assault, later lodged a complaint with the Police.

The Srirangapatna Rural Police registered both the cases and enforced a Nakabandi in all directions to nab the culprits. The Police suspect the involvement of the same gang in both the incidents and the third motorcycle used by the gang to loot Raymond D'Souza may have been that of Manikumar, the victim of the first incident.

Preliminary investigations have revealed that the modus operandi of the dacoit gang is to target lonely motorists and attack them at isolated points where there is less traffic early in the morning.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

We are still newcomers to consumerism but the West, which got there first, now finds itself in a strange difficulty: yesterday's binge-buyers don't know what to do with all their stuff. When they ran out of space at home, they rented storage — often paying more per square foot than they do for their home. But now, they have grown old, many are childless or have children who live away, and they are realising that nobody wants their possessions. Even the wedding dress and the heirloom china and furniture that they cherish as part of their identity have no takers. Enter 'clean up companies.' Their task is to tell people, 'you don't need this.' People are suddenly overwhelmed by their possessions because, for decades, they have built up their identity on the basis of the things they have owned and acquired. They might have hoped to pass on these to someone, but times have changed and people are too individualistic for hand-me downs. What's worse is that stuff is no longer designed with reuse in mind. Your fridge from 2000 might still be good to pass on, but a smart refrigerator you buy today might become scrap in a few years. In the best-case scenario, your stuff will be recycled. In the worst, it's going to the landfill, but good luck finding someone to take it off your hands.

Model divorces husband after being told to spend less

Tokyo: Japanese model Kato Sari recently finalized her divorce from her husband, after getting separated from him just a week into their marriage, due to her uncontrolled money spending habits.

29-year-old Kato Sari has always been known for her luxurious lifestyle and love of expensive fashion brands, but her husband never imagined that her spending habits would end up putting his businesses at risk. The unnamed real-estate businessman reportedly started dating the model in May of 2019, and in the three and a half months before the pair tied the knot, she had managed to spend about 1 billion yen ($9.1 million) of his money. Still, the man went through with the wedding, but during the first week of their marriage, he told Sari to slow down her spending, as his businesses weren't fairing very well. That didn't sit too well with her, so she asked for a divorce.

Bacon-scented patch to help vegans resist meat cravings

England: A Professor of Experimental Psychology recently unveiled a wearable patch infused with bacon flavor that is supposed to help curb meat cravings. Charles Spence, the professor at the University of Oxford, teamed up with plant-based food company Strong Roots to create a patch that, when scratched, produces a smell similar to that of cooked bacon. The idea behind this strange invention is that the human mind is connected to our senses of taste and smell and that certain smells can significantly reduce food cravings.

Dubbed the world's first meat patch, Spence's weird creation is supposed to be worn like a nicotine patch, only instead of slowly releasing nicotine into the wearer's body, it's supposed to be scratched for an instant olfactory dose of bacon.

Karnataka Offset Printers' Association turns 25

Bengaluru, Feb.2 (KS)- Karnataka Offset Printers' Association (KOPA), which rode on the visionary and mission-mode efforts of its successive office-bearers and made history as the first and the only printers' association in the country to have its own building, in Bengaluru, has turned 25.

The journey of KOPA's 25 years coincided with the end of letterpress printing, making way to offset printing in the country. The new technology brought in challenges, which provided the background and the context for the birth of KOPA as a forum to address such challenges.

Apart from addressing many challenges faced by the printing industry, KOPA was among the first to respond in times of distress and natural calamities. KOPA has distributed Rs. 40 lakh worth relief materials in flood-hit areas of North Karnataka and Kodagu besides providing scholarships to deserving students and also distributing note books at subsidised price, conducting technical seminars and open houses for its members.

Free training

The training centre, KOPA TOPTEC was the brainchild of former KOPA President A. Balachandra which was established to address the shortage of skilled manpower in the offset printing industry.

The training centre offers four-month intuitive course covering fundamentals of print process and graphic designing, CorelDraw, in-depth knowledge in use and applications of tools, tips, creating logos, monograms, using and applying colours, working with shapes and planning page layouts among others.

The Founding team of KOPA were late Bhadragiri Sarvothama Pai (President), K.K. Vaidyanathan (Vice-President) and Basavaraj C. Jigalur (General Secretary).

More on Junagadh's merger with India

Sir,

Anent to the feature article "India becomes a Republic: Somnath Temple in Gujarat" by my esteemed friend Dr. C.D.Srinivas Murthy (CDS) in Star of Mysore dated 25.1.2020.

Dr. CDS says: After India's Independence and the accession of Junagarh (Junagadh) State into Indian Union, Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, the then Union Home Minister, pledged that Somnath should be reconstructed and restored to its original glory....

I think the multifaceted author has missed in stating an important footnote in the story of integration of Indian States.

Junagadh was an important State in the Kathiawar Region of Gujarat and it was ruled by Nawab Sir Mahabat Khan Rasulkhanji. It also had tiny independent States of Manavadar and Mangrol within its territories which also was headed by Muslim rulers. Junagadh was a maritime State with Arabian Sea on its South and Southwest borders. Karachi was just 300 miles away from its port at Veraval. This made its position unique as the only Princely State which was not land locked by either the dominion of India or any Indian State and was headed by a Muslim Ruler. Travancore and Cochin were the other Indian States with maritime borders but they were headed by Hindu rulers.

To further compound the havocs caused by the creation of two Dominions by the Indian Independence Act of 1947, Junagadh was at that time headed by Sir Shahnawaz Bhutto – a staunch Muslim league leader from Karachi as its Dewan. For the uninitiated, Sir Shahnawaz was the father of Zulfikar Ali Bhutto !

After dithering, Junagadh decided to accede to the Dominion of Pakistan on Aug. 15, 1947. Pakistan accepted the Instrument of Accession on Sept. 13 and also signed a standstill agreement. This caused unrest in the Kathiawar States of Bhavnagar, Navanagar, Gondal etc., and also a challenge to the Indian Government which was already grappling with emerging situation in Hyderabad and Kashmir. On Nov.1, Indian Forces occupied the tiny States of Manavadar and Mangrol.

In the meantime, Nawab of Junagadh fled to Karachi along with his family, dogs, jewellery etc., leaving his Dewan to manage the chaos. The fast evolving ground situation and economic blockade forced Dewan to a virtual surrender to India on Nov.8 pending further negotiations between the two Dominions. Indian forces and administrators took over Junagadh by Nov.9 by which time even Bhutto had left for Karachi. Pakistan has never reconciled to this position even today and uses it to its advantage to its claim over Kashmir.

Sardar Patel promptly visited Junagadh on Nov. 13 and took then and there the historic decision to restore Somanath temple to its former glory. Jamsaab of Navanagar promptly gave a donation of Rs. 1 lakh and soon more donations poured in spontaneously. Though Nawab of Junagadh later made overtures to accede to India and appoint Sir Mirza Ismail as his Dewan the same was simply ignored. A referendum was held on 24.2.1948 with 190870 / 91 votes in India's favour finally legitimised Junagadh's merger with India.

Take action against minors riding two-wheelers: Residents

Public grievances meet held at all Traffic Police Stations in city

Mysuru, Feb. 2 (RK&KS)- Residents have urged Traffic Police to take stringent action against minors found riding two-wheelers, youths violating traffic rules, footpath encroachments and haphazard parking of vehicles, which was hindering the smooth flow of traffic at the public grievances meet held at V.V. NR Traffic Police Station In-charge Inspector N. Muniyappa seen addressing the public at the grievances meet yesterday as Traffic Sub-Inspector K. Raghu, Constable Nagesh, Lashkar Sub-Inspector Pooja and others look on.

The residents alleged that most two-wheeler riders, particularly youths, ride their bikes and scooter without helmets and jump signals to avoid being captured by CCTV cameras. Many residents also complained of autorickshaws parking at 'No Parking' zones near Chandrakala Hospital and in front of Ganapati Temple in Gokulam besides urging the Cops to install speed-breakers near Chandrakala Hospital.

V.V. Puram Traffic Inspector Arunakumari, who heard the grievance, assured of taking action and solve the problems.

NR Traffic Police

A few urged the Inspector to relax the helmet rule on Fridays as they cannot wear helmets while coming to offer Friday prayers, to which Inspector Muniyappa told them that everyone pray to God for the well-being of all and the helmet rule has been implemented for the safety of all and hence the rule cannot be relaxed for anyone.

Tryst with Stones

NSS students restore Hoysala Dynasty's 70 Veeragallu and Mastikallu at Jayapura

By M.T. Yogesh Kumar

Mysuru, Feb. 2- Hero Stones (Veeragallu) and Masti Stones (Mastikallu) are unique stone monuments found across India, particularly in Karnataka. These stone carvings speak volumes about life and living in those bygone eras.

While Hero Stones are erected in memory of heroes who died in the battlefield while defending kings, border or cattle, Masti Stones are erected in memory of women who opt for death by self-immolation after hearing the death of their husbands.

These stone monuments may or may not have any inscriptions at the bottom. Defending village, border, cattle and women, battle as well as hunting are the most commonly found themes in these stone monuments. For example, a 10th Century Hero Stone at Begur in Bengaluru elucidates the techniques and strategies in a battle, which is considered as the best Hero Stone available in India.

A team of NSS students have taken up restoration work of 70 Veeragallu and Mastikallu, believed to be from 10th to 14th century Hoysala Dynasty. As part of their NSS camp, students of Kuvempunagar First Grade College in city, who have camped in Jayapura village of Mysuru taluk since Jan. 28, are trying to restore stone monuments which were scattered around Gujjalamma Temple in Jayapura village. These Hero Stones were discovered during a similar NSS camp conducted by the same college in the year 2014-15.

Prof. N.S. Rangaraju examines a copper plate at the village.

Five years after the discovery, these enthusiastic students have again taken up the arduous task of restoring these Veeragallu and Mastikallu which had been buried under the mud again at the temple premises.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, Prof. N.S. Rangaraju, Member, Expert Committee for Development and Protection of Mysore Heritage Region and Convenor, INTACH (Indian National Trust for Art and Cultural Heritage) said, "These stones belong to various periods including Hoysalas, Vijayanagara Empire and Mysore Wadiyars. These monuments are made of soap stones. Out of these 70 monuments, none of them have any inscriptions. It seems that there were many heroes in this region around Jayapura village during that period."

Kuvempunagar First Grade College Assistant Professor and NSS officer Dr. S.G. Ramdas Reddy said, "Under the guidance of our Principal Dr. Ragini, we conduct NSS camps every year. We try to select a historically significant village. This year, we are restoring these monuments, which were discovered in 2014-15. Villagers are also cooperating with us and helping our students. We are now keeping these valuable monuments around the temple in a well-preserved condition."

Villager Chikkanaga Nayaka said, "20 years ago, we had discovered copper plates within an earthen pot (hosagumbe) when we were digging earth for construction of Konappa Temple. We are now offering puja to these copper plates in the temple."

The most recent historical novel by Kannada author Vasudendra, 'Tejo Tungabhadra', lucidly depicts the life of common man during Vijayanagar period. The novel vividly depicts the act of 'Penbuyyal' (death while protecting the modesty of women in distress). Interestingly, 'Penbuyyal' stone monuments are found abundantly in many regions of Karnataka.

MUDA office turns into a DUMPYARD

Mysuru, Feb. 2 (RK&BCT)- Giving two hoots for the Solid Waste Management Rules framed by the Union Ministry of Environment, Forests and Climate Change (MoEF&CC) that imposes strict penalties in case of poor implementation, tonnes of scrap, plastic and metal waste, discarded and rusting vehicles are dumped inside the office of Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA), a prime space on JLB Road in city.

Shockingly, the waste is dumped right under the nose of the officials and barely metres away from the MUDA Commissioner's Office. Piles of garbage have been dumped inside the office of this Government body which is supposed to plan good layouts and distribute sites to aspirants. The waste continues to be dumped inside MUDA compound at a time when Mysuru city is vying to secure the Number One place in the Cleanest City ranking under Swachh Survekshan-2020.

Ironically, most of the garbage including old and discarded furniture, tyres, sofas, tube lights and wooden shelves are dumped right in front of Site Auction Room which is barely 25 metres away from the MUDA Commissioner's Office. This is where people come to purchase MUDA sites through auction and auctions fetch huge revenue to MUDA.

Nearby, there is a vehicle that is fitted with ladder for the workmen to climb up for any task. This vehicle is of no use now and has been gathering rust. There is a mountain of organic waste (leaves and twigs) inside the compound and MUDA staff, in order to clear the mess, often set fire to dry waste though rules bar them from setting fire to waste.

If the outer compound of the MUDA building is in a mess with discarded solid waste, its cellar tells a different story. Old furniture, files, ledgers, electronic waste, old computers and monitors, old vehicles including cars and jeeps that were used years ago have been dumped. Some of the registration numbers read — CTO 3807, MEY 3445 — and indicate that they have just been reduced to scrap.

The dumped waste is a threat for health of MUDA employees and hundreds of visitors who throng the office for their property-related works. Unfortunately, while MUDA officials wax eloquent on keeping offices, layouts and house compounds clean and use basements to park vehicles, officials are not bothered to practice what they preach.

The MUDA building cellar houses the Office of Contractor's Association and a Cooperative Bank. The employees there function in a dusty atmosphere amidst the muck. The waste is gathering dust and the whole place stinks and a musty smell permeates the environs. As this precious parking space is lost, officers and employees park their vehicles in front of the building and every available space inside the compound.

Interestingly, the Standard Operating Procedures for 'Swachh Office' released by the Ministry of Urban Development lays out the infrastructure norms, assessment and inspection procedures and checklists, and sanitation and waste management best practices to be followed in Government offices.

'Swachh Office' was launched to bring change on the premises of Government offices where large scale construction material, unused furniture and vehicles among other discarded items find place.

However, looking at the way solid waste is dumped inside MUDA compound, it is amply clear that the Standard Operating Procedures are only on paper and for the officials to preach and not for implementation and compliance.

State to organise mass marriages in select Muzrai temples on April 26: Minister

Nanjangud, Feb.2 (RS, RKB, DM&SD)- Muzrai Minister Kota Srinivas Poojary said that the State Government has proposed to organise mass marriages simultaneously select Muzrai Temples in the State on Apr. 26.

Chairing a meeting of Nanjangud Srikanteshwara Swamy Temple Committee at the Temple's Dasoha Bhavan Hall here this morning, Poojary said that the Government has planned mass marriages to lessen the financial burden on poor and lower middle class sections of the society.

Highlighting the plans of the Government, he asked the officials to ensure total success of the mass marriage. Instructing the officials to compulsorily get the approval of the parents of both the groom and bride entering wedlock in the mass marriage event, the Minister said that the Government was spending Rs. 55,000 on each couple, which included Rs. 40,000 for Gold, Rs. 10,000 cash for the bride and Rs. 5,000 cash for the groom.

Asking the officials to ensure maximum registration for the mass marriage, he said that officials must come up with full details of the preparations made, when the next meeting takes place.

Poojary also directed officials to involve local MLA and other people representatives of the region in the preparations.

MLA B. Harshavardhan, Temple Executive Officer Shivakumaraiah, Temple Committee members Indhan Babu, Girish, Shashirekha, Puttalingashetty, Sridhar and other officials were present.

Later, speaking to pressperson to a query on his Department's plans for improvement of the temple, Poojary said that he would soon convene a high-powered meeting at Bengaluru to discuss plans for developing the temple and make it among the top-most temples in Southern India.

Replying to a question on whether he will retain his Cabinet berth in the forthcoming expansion, Poojary said that he was very much confident of continuing in the Cabinet.

Muzrai Minister visits Chamundi Hill

In view of mass marriages, which will be held on Apr. 26 and May 24, Minister Kota Srinivas Poojary conducted spot inspection at Chamundi Hills this morning.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, he said, "Mass marriages will be held at 100 select temples that get a high income and have good resources. This includes Chamundeshwari Temple in Mysuru, Srikanteshwara Swamy Temple in Nanjangud and Mallikarjunaswamy Temple at Mudukuthore in T. Narasipur taluk," he said.

The mass marriage programme, planned to promote simple marriage concept and bring reforms in the society, assumes significance in the wake of marriage turning a burden for many.

"This will help put an end to excessive marriage expenditure," he said. Temple Executive Officer (in-charge) Yathiraj, AEO Govindaraj, MLA L. Nagendra and Chamundeshwari Temple Chief Priest N. Shashishekar Dixit and others were present.

WORD OF THE DAY

Tontine

Pronunciation: TAHN-teen.
Meaning: A joint financial arrangement whereby the participants usually contribute equally to a prize that is awarded entirely to the participant who survives all the others.
Origin: Tontines were named after their creator, a Neapolitan banker named Lorenzo Tonti. In 1653, Tonti convinced investors to buy shares in a fund he had created. Each year, the investors earned dividends, and when one of them died, their share of the profits was redistributed among the survivors. When the last investor died, the capital reverted to the State. Louis XIV of France used tontines to save his ailing treasury and to fund municipal projects, and private tontines (where the last surviving investor—and subsequently their heirs—got the cash instead of the state) became popular throughout Europe and the U.S. Eventually, though, tontines were banned; there was just too much temptation for unscrupulous investors to bump off their subscribers.

THE ODD WORD

Tabacosis

Tobacco poisoning.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

The apple doesn't fall far from the tree

Meaning: Typically said in connection with children who show qualities or talents that are similar to those of their parents.
Origin: Scattered around the bottom of an apple tree (or pretty much any fruit tree for that matter) is the fruit it produces. This fruit falls off the branches and drops to the ground, remaining close to the tree it came from. Eventually, this natural occurrence turned into a metaphor and now today, it means that a person 'is not far off from how their parents are.' But who was the person who came up with this proverb? Unfortunately, the exact person is not known. Moreover, the place where it originated from is not clear either; however, it is mentioned that this saying may have come from Asia. According to Richard Jenie, who wrote German Proverbs from the Orient, he mentions that this proverb makes an early appearance in the year 1585. That's old, but the earliest I've seen it in print is from the year 1605. It's in a book (named below) by Hieronymus Megiser. There are multiple proverbs listed in this book and on page 65, there's a part that reads: "Der Apffel fellt nicht weit vom Baum." (When translated from German to English, this says: "The apple does not fall far from the tree.").
